

MPhil Development Studies Dissertations 2016-2017

Title	Classmark
Examining Cuba's economic policy changes since the 1990s: the evolution from reactionary reforms to fundamental transformation	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:1
Muslim personal law and Bengali Muslim women in India	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:2
The majorisation of the minority: explaining the rise of xenophobic responses to migration	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:3
To what extent do industrial clusters contribute to industrial upgrading in developing countries?: the case of the Chinese automobile industry	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:4
International donors and civil society organisations in Armenia: patterns of cooperation	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:5
Institutions, insecurity, and investment: the barriers to long-term local economic development in Kosovo	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:6
The inefficiency of unequal distribution: inequality of housing in Hong Kong	DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:7

Beyond bargaining: on the motivations underpinning use of autonomy data to supplement a utility of women's living standards

DS MPHIL DISS 2016/2017:8